Naturally 7 Brings their Unique A capella music style to U of M Crookston on Wednesday, March 6, 2007

By Lisa Samuelson, Elizabeth Tollefson on Thursday, March 1, 2007

CROOKSTON, Minn. (February 27, 2007) – A cappella music group, Naturally 7, introduce their unique sound during a concert at the University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) on Tuesday, March 6, 2007 at 8 p.m. The concert will take place in the Kiehle Auditorium. UMC students are free. There will be a $5 admission fee for all non-UMC students.

The idea for Naturally 7 was conceived in New York City in 1999. The "band" started as more of a traditional a cappella singing group, meaning singing without any instrumental accompaniment. Wanting to be unique, they abandoned the a cappella style and set out to develop a new sound that they now call 'vocal play'.

Rather than singing without instruments, vocal play is singing 'as' instruments. Band members of Naturally 7 demonstrate vocal ability by becoming the musical instruments with their voices. Every sound is created from the human voice.

This event is sponsored by the UMC Student Programming & Activities for Campus Entertainment (S.P.A.C.E.). For more information on the concert, contact Lisa Samuelson, director of student activities, at 218-281-8507 (samue026@umn.edu).

The University of Minnesota, Crookston (UMC) delivers more than 25 applied-science undergraduate degree programs and 50 concentrations, including online degrees, in agriculture; arts, humanities and social sciences; business; math, science and technology; and natural resources. UMC is dedicated to helping students and the region aim higher, reach further and dream bigger dreams. To learn more, visit www.UMCrookston.edu.
